. Most importantly it's real. This book brings out all the emotions. However this book is healing. Thank you for your sweet gift to the world. Her journey is so unique and horrible yet IMPORTANT. It is written beautifully with compassion and love. It puts everything into perspective. Maybe that's what grief and pain do. The deep live wire feeling that scraps our insides raw. That makes us feel broken and fragile. This book in a way is a gateway to the soul. It asks us to turn tragedy into purpose. To turn pain into purpose. To restore what has always been true. That we are deserving of love of the deepest kind. Love of self
