The mystic energy that comes from the sun. 19) Romance. 22) The City in the Sea. 3 STARSThis is what I am saying in #21. This poem is the classic usual EAP. I mean this is gothic through and through. It talks about a city that is ruled by demons. Not even six feet deep in a cozy coffin deep. So glad to finally read most of his stories and poems. This is the Poe of legend. Edgar was the second of three children. Mr. An always intriguing and bizarre Sherlock Holmes mystery. Sight Unseen. People often accuse H.P. The Tell-Tale Heart One of Poe's best known stories. 2. Gives me the willies. An excellent Halloween read. 3. 4. The poor lady soon dies and things go from bad to... OMG! That ending! Read twice for full effect. 6. The Facts in the Case of M. Valdemar who is literally at death's door. The results are unexpected and horrifying. 7. Ligeia A bit of a long-winded ghost story. Opium-fueled hallucination or supernatural shenanigan. You decide! 8."Inspector Lestrade probably has a cousin working there. Dupin is awesome but a very long-winded fellow. 9. Excellent denouement though. An excellent soporific. 11. 12. MS. (not a spoiler)Great story!14. William WilsonA bizarre Twilight Zone-ish story. A strange possibly allegorical story of a doppelganger. EleonoraA fable with an unexpected non-twist. 16. Read my friend Glenn's erudite review of this story instead. 17. I have not read it yet I am sorry to say. I may get around to it one day.At his best his stories are fascinating and often horrifying.* He is a much better prose stylist than Lovecraft though. "Now in my opinion Dupin was a very inferior fellow. So much so the doctor took a scissors to the painting. Unfortunately something unexpected happens. The title story especially The Tell-Tale Heart.David Putnam author of The Bruno Johnson series. Above all was the sense of hearing acute.youtube.com/watch?v=mTxyN. I knew that sound well too. EAP's prose is just exceptional.6) The Facts in the Case of Mr. Valdemar. 4 STARS Very interesting. The use of hypnosis to a dying man. Valdemar who kept on saying I'm dying or Dead dead dead. I could not imagine this happening in real life. It is too unkind.7) Ligeia. The second half of the story seems like a hallucination.8) The Murders in the Rue Morgue.9) The Purloined Letter. 3 STARSC. Aguste Dupin is back.11) The Pit and the Pendulum. 4 STARS Very much like the movie series Saw.12) MS. Found in a Bottle. It feels creepy and classy. I enjoyed his better than Nathaniel Hawthorne's.20) To Helen.21) Israfel. This is cheery the city is said to be doomed. Hmmm.23) The Sleeper. 4 STARSEAP proudly claimed that this his is best poem. Better than The Raven.24) The Valley of Unrest. This is another sad poem in this collection.25) Lenore.26) The Raven. 5 STARSThe best (so far) poem in this collection. It is sad yet it is happy (in a way).27) A Valentine. 5 STARSEAP is a women's guy. His writings are mostly about death life love and. (Source: Wiki). I did see it! Very clever.28) Ulalume - A Ballad. 5 STARS Almost put tears to my eyes while reading. Very sad.29) For Annie. He is now beyond pain and suffering. But no one he says should think pityingly of him. After all everyone will lie in the same bed he does. Moreover his death is not final. Though dead he lives on because of her love. Is there any other poem sadder than this?30) Annabel Lee. Short and sweet yet of course sad. 31) The Bells. The repeated use of that word: bells bells bells bells. When I was baptized for example the church bells rang. When I got married they also rang. The mood becomes gloomier and gloomier.32) Alone. 4 STARS Simply beautiful. Alone. What a nice poem to cap this beautiful beautiful collection. I had no expectations about his poems prior to this.This book made my Halloween this year truly memorable. Priceless read.He's a master of the topics of greed lust and power. You can't get more dark The Tell-Tale Heart. Oh I will say it inspired Darren Aronofsky's Black Swan
