What a fucking monster do that with a kid? How low is that? And do you think this has been fixed ?? No the author didn't bother in fix that. Hot bossfight We still have the fact that another woman approached him at the gym and certainly he was not sooooo passionate about h when he noticed how HOT ow was and when he considered being with her to overcome h. Hot bossjob login He sent her away without even looking back without the slightest consideration for her feeling and his son and only when he saw that it wouldn't be easy to live with the kid he conveniently changed his mind and then I love you with no (nothing! nada!) groveling and boom she falls into his arms again. Hot box sauna Apart from: The aimless heroineThe emo almost-alpha heroThe scheming ex wife A blackmailing slimeballAn interfering mother The groping drunkards The college theme that isn't actually a theme Kidnapping. Book hot springs His decisions are also highly questionable; often downright stupid but the man is trying Contemporary When your dead father owes a debt and you're expected to pay it back and the man who you have to repay offers you a job working in a sleazy club what do you do? That's right you go get a job as a nanny for billionaires five year old son. Hot bossfight Nina is great with James and despite how hard Eric and Nina try they cannot keep their hands off each other and each time they say it's a mistake which hurts Nina so much. Hot boss baby Eventually Eric tells her he and James are moving and she is no longer needed so she does the only thing she can and takes the job at the sleazy club! Will Nina and Eric be able to move on without each other or can they find their way back to each other. Book hot shot loads This is a lovely story about two people who fall in love with each other but an insecure five year old has to come first which keeps them apart! Romance Contemporary Romance Contemporary

Nina & Eric meet when she scoops us Eric's 5-year-old son to keep him from being hit by a car. Hot bossjun Eric has a lot of issues that is holding him back with all the different things thrown at them will they find their HEA? The story was good with just enough twist and turns along with the suspense to keep you wanting to know what's next. Hot box sauna Will either one of them get past their past or will the past win? Will Eric ever decide what he wants? Will Nina accept whatever is to come? You will need to read to find out, I'm not one to simply forgive a jerk hero but Eric is just. Hot bossfight Nothing spectacular except his admirable quest for a good life for himself and his son. Hot bossj So there I am a few chapters before the end and I'm wondering why on earth I'm still reading this. Hot box scotland I don't want little James to grow up in her flighty presence. Hot bossgal I don't want to see her grow up and mature or not grow up and mature. Hot bossj I don't want their story I don't want their existence on my reader: Hot bossgpt NTS:Edit review Romance.

A fantastic well written read, Hot boss meme An intense storyline that holds your attention as you get caught up in the fierce twists and hot chemistry. Hot box shoe I received a free copy of this book via Booksprout and am voluntarily leaving a review. Nova bossa red hot on verve Romance Contemporary Oh please!! Stop painting these excuses for a human being as heroes of romances. Hot bossj The only thing I would like to have from such a pig is distance: Hot blocks He says he misses her but it seemed more that he missed was the convenience of a fuck buddy and someone who could take care of his son. Hot box cookies It just didn't happen because he found out that the meeting was set up by his mother, Hot boss baby Romance Contemporary I've read a lot of (what I consider to be) rubbish in my time but I've never quit a book at the 95% mark. Hot bossgal If I don't finish a book it's usually at 10% or even 50%; but 95%: Hot box shed This is me genuinely not knowing what to say while knowing I can't NOT say anything: Book hot shot loads I also don't want to postpone this review because I've already deleted the book from my device, Book hot shot loads She's not broken so I can't pity her nor root for her. Was brought up by a loving sister, Book hot shot loads I see no logical reason for the way her mind works; the paths she chooses. Nova bossa red hot on verve The narration is first person and being in her mind is unsettling and unpleasant: Hot bossfight ONE good reason for her presence was the close bond she had with his child: Hot bossjun An emotionally fragile 5 year old boy who for some inexplicable reason is drawn to her: Book hot shot loads One day she just slinks away before he wakes up without a goodbye or an explanation. Hot bossj He's still recovering from traumatic events and she leaves him: Hot bossgirllisa All because she's not getting her way with his father who rejects their relationship; she's miffed so she leaves: Hot bossjob login "Why would you leave a perfectly decent babysitting job to do this?" "I felt self-destructive. Hot box sea sauna I wanted to feel something even if it meant feeling sick and angry: Hot bossgirllisa In fact he constantly rejects her advances even after they are intimate. Hot box shed (not loving or anything deep; it's just pure sex) She KNOWS he's two-minded yet she gets all affronted when he doesn't give in to her want for more. Hot business "It made me sick to my stomach to recall the way Eric rejected me last night, Hot boss sauce "The hero is just a single dad who loves his broken son. Hot bossfight milky He's quite assholeish in his own choices knowing it can cause all sorts of trouble for the well-being of his son: Book hot shot loads I mostly felt sorry for him because all these women demand a piece of him: his evil ex wife the weird h a simpleton fellow gym-goer his crazy mother. Hot bossfight milky Eric and Nina meet when she interviews for the job of nanny the attraction is instant and although they both feel it she accepts the job, Book hot shot loads Eric is instantly drawn to Nina; little did he know that when his business partner suggests his sister-in-law to be his new nanny that it would be Nina, Hot boss wicked nights Nina is needing money fast in order to pay off a debt left her deceased father, Hot business Nina takes the job as James's nanny and James is really connecting with her: Hot bossgpt The more Nina is there the more feelings she develops for Eric. Nova bossa red hot on verve Eric starts to have feelings for Nina as well but he is so hot and cold to her she doesn't know what to think or how to react. Hot bossjun I received a free copy of this book via Booksprout and am voluntarily leaving a review. Hot bossgpt Romance Contemporary Ex military billionaires are so hot! It's funny that I read this book because we were discussing a this or that this week about leading men in romance novels, Hot bossgal I chose a combo of ex military billionaire because they are always super hot strong passionate the right amount of cocky and can pay a private military to rescue you. Hot box sauna That's just what Eric is with a 5 year old son who is needing extra TLC after their move from Seattle to Chicago, Book hot shot loads Eric is going into business with his good friend Miles who can see Eric is struggling with James. Hot bossfight She's looking for work she's a college student and she may be what you need. Hot bossjun Eric initially dismisses the idea but agrees to an interview: Hot business Just before they meet Eric takes James to the park where he has a major meltdown and bolts toward the street, Hot bossgal Before he can bolt into the street a woman snatches him up and calms him - it's Nina, Hot box sea sauna It's as if the stars have aligned perfectly for both James and Eric because they are both almost immediately smitten: Hot bossfight milky However she's forbidden fruit the past is lurking around every corner and every move made seems to be one mistake after another, Hot box shed Read This Romance Contemporary Nina has a past she keeps even from her best friend, Hot bossfight milky Nina wants to move out of the dorm to protect her best friend so she knows she needs a job and place to live: Hot bossgpt One minute he is into her the next he pushes her away[1]

For shits sake. he's just there. I don't want them together. I don't want Eric to care for her. I do want back the time I spent reading this. However its not long before they give in to each other. The chemistry between them is blazing hot. This is a well written and very entertaining story. I would recommend this book to any book lover. Close and distant. I don't know what he wants. What he wants from me. If he even wants me around. His ex. His military past. The only thing I can do is go on living my life. Try and pretend like he doesn't exist. Just to get him off my mind. But I have a secret too. I'm running from something too. I hope he never finds out. Plenty of excitement and emotionally heartfelt. A thrilling must read. So we can already imagine where that would have gone. Yeah yeah .I don't see anything of love here. And the ending is completely ridiculous. HEA. In one word? Mediocre.? Never. I need closure. Any broken pieces put back together with a nice HEA. There's no coming back to this one. Ever. Never. I have no positive feelings for this heroine. She's in college. She has options. She's loved. She's independent. She's an idiot. A twit. A loser. She's his safe place. His comfort. Until she carelessly abandons her job as his live-in nanny. He's devastated. To work in a club: "the men there are seedy. they hit on you and tip you if you reciprocate. I just wanted to find an outlet out of Eric's world." Every decision she makes is based on ridiculousness. She's creepy. She latches onto a hero who makes no promises. How stupid was I? "I had nowhere to live. I wasn't interested in school. The man I wanted was gone and didn't want me. He seems lost and vulnerable. poor man doesn't know his ass from his elbow. Very good book. For example military cowboys billionaire firefighters shifters etc. He offers to call his sister in law Nina. Her sister Raina had her go to college. She is doing good there. Then her past comes and finds her. Raina's husband wants Eric to be his partner in business. Eric needs a nanny. Nina was suggested. Nina is 21 and a college student Eric is told. She agrees to meet Eric and his son James. Nina finds herself instantly attracted to him. Eric hires her and moves her into the house. James instantly takes to Nina. Nina is confused as to what Eric wants. Romance Contemporary.
