

Christian Social Activism and Rule of Law in Chinese Societies (Studies in Christianity in China) By Fenggang Yang

Although Christianity has been a minority religion in Chinese societies Christians have been powerful catalysts of social activism in seeking to establish democracy and rule of law in mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and diasporic communities. Written from a range of disciplinary and geographical perspectives the chapters develop a coherent narrative of Christian activism that illuminates its specific historical theological and cultural contexts. Analyzing campaigns for human rights universal suffrage and other political reforms this volume uncovers the complex dynamics of Christian activism highlighting its significant contributions to the democratization of Greater China: The chapters gathered in this collection reveal the vital influence of Christian individuals and groups on social political and legal activism in Chinese societies, Christian Social Activism and Rule of Law in Chinese Societies (Studies in Christianity in China)

